

MOSES AND MATTHEW

Matthew 10-22

THE TWELVE

- We open up chapter ten with a naming of the twelve apostles (Matt. 10:1-4; cf. Num. 1:5-15)
- There is also similarity with the twelve spies (Num. 13:4-15).
- There is a transition here of calling these men apostles.

THE GENERATIONS

- John sends disciples to inquire about the identity of Jesus (Matt. 11:2-6).
- Now we see the generations pitted against each other (Matt. 11:25).
- We continue the discussion of rest with a discussion of the Sabbath (Matt. 12:1-14; cf. Num. 15:32-41).
- The people question the authority of Jesus (Matt. 12:22-24).
- Notice the parables and stories that are about reception and rejection.
- Chapter 18 continues the theme of the child being the example over against the hardened adults (Matt. 18:1-6; cf. Matt. 19:13-14).
- We conclude with a question about levirate marriage and resurrection (Matt. 22:23-33; cf. Num. 36).
