

Christians and facebook

Discretion

- The quality of behaving or speaking in such a way so as to avoid causing offense or revealing private information.
 - Discretion is a protective thing (Prov. 2:11).
 - It is the idea of keeping back information (Prov. 5:2; 12:23; 17:28; 21:23).
 - We are to be characterized as quiet people (1 Tim. 2:2; 1 Pet. 3:4).

Humility

- The primary purpose of social media is the promotion of self (Rom. 12:3).
 - There is a strong temptation to become self-promoters (Prov. 27:2).
 - It is very easy to develop an appetite for the approval of men (Matt. 6:2, 5, 7, 16).

Example

- The primary purpose of social media is the promotion of self (Rom. 12:3).
 - There is a strong temptation to become self-promoters (Prov. 27:2).
 - It is very easy to develop an appetite for the approval of men (Matt. 6:2, 5, 7, 16).

Kindness

- Social media does nothing to encourage kindness but neither does much of the rest of the world.
 - Kindness should be a defining characteristic of Christians (Gal. 5:22).
 - Our speech is specifically spoken of (Col. 4:6).
